4. GOVERNANCE AND COMMITTEE WORK

6:17pm

Board of Directors August Meeting Minutes August 28th, 2018

Recite Ends, 6:17pm

Director and Guests recited the Ends policy in unison.

Meet and Greet with Bill Bickford, 6:18pm

Dan noted that he typically invites new high level managers to introduce themselves to the Board. Bill Bickford introduced himself and detailed his work experience. Directors introduced themselves and asked a few questions. Bill will be back in March for the presentation of the D6 – Staff Treatment and Compensation Monitoring Report, if not sooner.

Audit and Review Committee, 6:27pm

Kyle, our auditor from Wegner CPA met with the board via phone to debrief the board on how the audit went generally, and answer their questions. Kyle explained that due to changes in the tax code moving forward, it is more advantageous to apply the operating loss carry forward this year than it would be to do so next year. Kyle said on behalf of himself and Bruce said that it's a pleasure to work with Wheatsville and they appreciate the ongoing relationship.

Dan commended John and Bill on their work all year round that results in clean audits. MeriJayd thanked Lisa for her work as Treasurer. Brandon also thanked Lisa for her leadership and said it was great to be on the committee.

---MeriJayd moved to accept the FYE 2018 Audit Report with tremendous gratitude to all involved. Lyz seconded. Motion passed 9-0-0.

Net Savings and Patronage Rebate Discussion, 6:54pm

As planned on their Board Goals and Learning document, directors discussed patronage rebates and an article called "Waking the Sleeping Giant" from Cooperative Grocer Magazine regarding issuing patronage rebates as it relates to capitalizing the cooperative and reducing the co-ops tax liability.

The board discussed the value of a rebate to individual owners both financially and emotionally versus the value of having that money retained by the co-op to further fund the business that they've invested in and the stores where they shop.

The primary reasons that management did not recommend a patronage rebate this year are that, due to operating losses carried forward from previous years, a patronage allocation is not needed to reduce taxes, and we want to preserve our cash resources for possible growth opportunities. Dan also noted that net income was relatively low this year, and the rebate amount per owner would possibly be disappointing, especially if the co-op retains 80% as owner equity. John added that it is costly in labor to calculate and distribute rebates.

Dan gave a brief history of patronage rebate distribution, noting that we went a long time without doing any, did them several years in a row during the 2000's and then told owners as we entered into building the second store that we would not be doing them again for some time as a result of the costs of second store.

Jason expressed interest in having owners understand how they are investing in the co-op and what their investment is doing. Dan noted that after opening the South Lamar store, Wheatsville reduced profit margins in order to have better prices and be more accessible to more shoppers and we decided to greatly increase wages to a new livable wage and benefits model – those are both investments that Wheatsville, and its owners, have made in making Wheatsville a better place to shop and work, and a better member of the community.

Net Savings Resolution, 7:14pm

Dan and John presented a draft Allocation of Net Savings Resolution. The Draft Resolution intentionally follows the same order prescribed in the Texas Business Organizations Code for allocation of net savings. Dan noted that Wheatsville strategically decided to pay out dividends to our shareholders as part of our capitalization strategy. Dan also noted that "net savings" has no fixed legal or accounting definition, so we interpreted as EBITDA and were assured by Wegner CPAs that it is reasonable to do so. EBITDA is measure of net savings that we've been using for the past several years.

Doug disclosed that he is an investor shareholder, which may be perceived to be a conflict of interest. RMK explained when we have a conflict of interest, real or percieved, person should disclose and may recommend how to proceed, with the approval of the remainder of the board, or the board may dictate how they are allowed to proceed. Doug recommended that he participate in both the discussion and the vote, as he has done so during his nine-year tenure on the Board. The Board agreed.

Don noted that investor share programs are an advantage of co-ops, giving organizations a way to find capital other than banks or private equity, and that the organization should honor that by paying dividends.

Directors discussed the desire to have the values which guide the decision reflected publically. The Board decided to craft the minutes to express those values, as well as write a Breeze article. MeriJayd volunteered to write the article for the Breeze.

RMK noted that she will ask Dan and John to prepare a learning on Investor Share Dividends.

The Board decided to adopt the resolution to follow the letter of the law, and act as fiduciary stewards of the organization, seeing as it is in the best interest of the organization to avoid taxation to preserve Wheatsville's funds to invest in ways that reflect the values of our community, such as in paying a living wage and offering accessible prices on high quality food, and honoring our written committment to pay dividends to our investor shareholders, and preserving for the future the reputation of Wheatsville's investor share program as a good investment.

---Jason moved to adopt the Net Savings Resolution*. Brandon seconded. Motion passed 8-0-1 (abstain).

*Note that there was a correction to the resolution. The version passed in August was rescinded and a new version was passed during the September 2018 Meeting.

  2. Connecting our members to investing in the co-op: strategic advantage
